MAHOOL MUST QUIT

Baltimore's Mayor Will Be Denied a Renomination.

BOSSES AGREED ON THIS

But They Are Unable to Agree on Man for His Place.

RULE OF STONE IS MENACED

Young Men's Republican Club Planning for Overthrow of the Party Leader in City.

Special Correspondence of The Star. BALTIMORE, Md., December 3, 1910. The democratic leaders of the city are already on a gumshoe campaign for a mayoralty candidate. Notice has been served upon Mayor Mahool that he need not expect any support from the regular organization should he decide to enter the primaries, and it is generally understood that Mr. Mahool will at the proper time announce that he will not be a candidate for renomination. In any event, the machine leaders are proceeding on the assumption that the mayor will step aside gracefully rather than make his political exit by the steam roller route. While the organization leaders are agreed that Manool shall be put out of the running, they are not at all harmonious about any one candidate and the indications are that the inner squabbles which marked the congressional primaries will be repeated in the municipal primaries. Former Sheriff Padgett, Wilham F. O'Conor and Carroll Rasin, leaders of East Baltimore, are said to have united in a demand upon "Sonny" Mahon, the city boss, that the or anization support J. Harry Preston, who was de-feated by Linthicum in the congressional primaries. Frank Kelley, the boss of west Baltimore, is known to be greatly opposed to Preston, and does not look ith favor upon the growing prominence of Padgett as a sort of sub-boss. The adherents of Preston have a more hard fight in the primaries. Mahon Has Candidate.

or less effective organization, which was perfected in his campaign for the conessional nemination. The men who backed Preston in that fight include many practical politicians, who if they do come to open rupture with the Mahon machine could give that organization a

Just whom Mahon really wants as a mayoralty candidate has not yet come to didate already selected, and will spring him at the psychological moment. The only statement Mahon has made was to the effect that he proposed to put it up to the people, and that the organization would take part in the primary election. This statement of Mahon, of course, is taken in a Pickwickian sense. There have been some miracles in Maryland politics, but none so remarkable as that would be. It is also said that Mahon wants many candidates suggested, and their merits and dem rits-particularly their demeritsdiscussed, so that the eligible gentl man he has settled upon, when finally brought forth, will be greeted with something

That is said to be the program of Boss Mahon, but the Preston boom and the activity of former Police Justice William J. Garland, who aspires to a seat in the city council, may work some change in it. Garland was convicted about a year ago of attempting to tamp r with the grand jury, and was dismissed as a justice of the peace by the governor. Politicians of practically all factions agree that if Gar-land persists in his announced intention of running for the council he could probably succeed in being elected in the third ward, but he would inevitably bring about the defeat of the ticket in the city

Minor Leaders Fighting.

In additio nto these complications there are fights raging among the small-fry leaders in practically every ward in the city. In the days of the old Rasin regime such squabbles were suppressed summarily, but the conviction is growing among the rank and file that Mahon is not forceful enough to wield the fron hand effectively and that his temporizing is likely to result disastrously for the machine. The workers in the party organization want to know what say they are going to have in the event the demoeratic candidate for mayor is elected. If, they say, the democratic mayor is to ignore the recommendations of the machine for minor places the men who do the work on election day have little ground on which to rally their forces. Another cause for dissatisfaction among the ward workers is due to the fact that Manon is laying plans to sidetrack some of the older executives who served under Boss Rasin, and it is cer-tain that these old party ward leaders will not give up their positions within the organization without a strenuous fight.

Republican Candidates.

Thus far the only avowed republican candidate in the field is Charles H. Torsch, who is going to enter the primaries with the support of the Young Men's Republican Club, an organization just now engaged in an effort to wrest the party control from William F. Stone. Neither Mr. Stone nor any of his lieutenants has given any intimation of a purpose to allow the Young Men's Republican Club to manage the situation, so it is to be assumed that there will be a fight for the control of the party next spring, each faction picking its candidates for most, if not all, of the offices and appealing to the affiliated voters of their party for support in the primaries. The general impression among politi-cians is that former Mayor E. Clay Timanus will be the candidate of the regular organization, headed by Stone, but the names of Theodore Marburg, Harry B. Wilcox and Albert M. Sproesser are being frequently mentioned.

CHAPLAIN IS REPRIMANDED.

Articles Published in Manila Paper Regarded as Disrespectful.

The Secretary of War has reprimanded Chaplain Joseph H. Sutherland 23d Infantry, at Fort Bliss, Tex. This action was taken at the instance of Maj. Gen. Duvall, at Manila, and grows out of the publication of certain statements in a regimental paper known as the Lantaka.

Gen. Duvall regarded these statements as objectionable, and as not entirely respectful of military authority. It is understood that Chaplain Sutherland was the editor of the paper, if he was not personally responsible for the criticisms. One of the statements to which Gen. Duvall directed the attention of the War Department was a criticism of the helmet worn by troops in the Philippines. The article was described by Gen. Duvail as flippant, and its publication was regarded as disrespectful.

Savings Stamps as Gifts.

Requests for the new postal savings stamp are being received at the Post Office Department from persons who desire to use them, with the cards to which they are intended to be attached, as Christmas presents for children. The department received yesterday a request of this character, accompanied with the money to pay for the stamp, from a man in Guthrie, Okla, who wanted it as a "first saving" for his "little three-The department will not permit the sale or issue of the stamps or cards until after the postal savings bank system is started, which will not be until after the Christmas holidays. Saks & Company
